

Groundhog

I'll bet I've seen the Bill Murray movie Groundhog Day at least 20 times, reliving him reliving the same day over and over and over and over. In these days of COVID, I think we can all relate to those feelings.

We aren't usually happy to see the groundhogs in or near the vineyards, since they can be pretty destructive, and their holes can be dangerous for tractor tires. This year, we realized in the spring that we had a family of groundhogs with 6 little ones living under a couple of our sheds. Because of the circumstances, it was hard not to be happy for the constant entertainment, the sight of a yard full of silly furry little ones.

So maybe they are a sign of times of change, after all...

